

STUDENT-COMMUNITY RELATION

While participating in or attending as representatives of the school any school related activity held on the school grounds or at some other location, students are subject to the same rules and regulations concerning conduct which apply during the usual school day.

Although the schools have no jurisdiction over students when they are not attending school or its related activities, students should understand that their actions while members of the Jackson Municipal Separate School District may reflect on the total school image held by the community and the public in general.

SOURCE: Jackson Public School District, Jackson, Mississippi
DATE: November 27, 1978